DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, applicant appears to claim the stop means (17) twice at line 4, "front part equipped with means for securing the front of the shoe" and at line 10, "stop means". It is not sure if applicant is referring to the same or different element.

The phrase "stop means" has been defined as a "hoop", "two protuberances" and "protuberances are shaped as ring holders". Therefore, it is not clear what is the stop means? Where are the protuberances shown in the figures?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(d) the invention was first patented or caused to be patented, or was the subject of an inventor's certificate, by the applicant or his legal representatives or assigns in a foreign country prior to the date of the application for patent in this country on an application for patent or inventor's certificate filed more than twelve months before the filing of the application in the United States.

Art Unit: 3728

4. Claims 1,3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(d) as being anticipated by FR 2828794 (Zedel).

Zedel teaches an ice spike as claimed including a front part with equivalent means for securing the front of the shoe having stop means (22), a rear part having wire folded into a U-shape having a cross-bar (26), equivalent means for adjusting (18,42,44) and a strapping system (34,36).

5. Claims 1 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by FR 2722067 (Charlet).

Charlet teaches an ice spike as claimed including a front part with equivalent means for securing the front of the shoe having stop means (hoop 24 as shown in figure 1 or hook 62 and ring as shown in figure 2), a rear part having wire folded into a U-shape having a cross-bar (28), equivalent means for adjusting (22,64,66), a strapping system (48,50,52), and a pair of holes (30).

6. Claims 1 and 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by FR 2575659 (Leborgne).

Leborgne teaches an ice spike as claimed, see the attached marked-up copy.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3728

8. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either [Zedel or Charlet] in view of official notice.

Zedel and Charlet teach the ice spike as taught above. Although, it is not clear if the U-shaped wire is made out of steel since translations haven't been provided. Nonetheless, the examiner takes official notice that fixing clamps with U-shape wire is conventional made out of wire. Moreover, it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416. Therefore, it would have been obvious to make the wire of Zedel and Charlet out of steel to facilitate construction and cost.

Conclusion

9. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including:

-“The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references.”

--“A general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section.”

-Moreover, “The prompt development of a clear issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims. Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06” MPEP 714.02. The “disclosure” includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
